We have also been associated with several large leather goods brands as their buying agents in India assisting with design & development & quality control and producing for some of them as well. Market dynamics over last 2 years have created an opportunity for the manufacturer to connect with larger retailers & brands directly owing to price constraints & pressure on the importers and we are now perfectly poised to capitalise on any such opportunity for a tie-up in any which way as may be possible because we are not only equipped with an SA 8000 certified factory but adequate experience and extensive product alleviating developments in the direction of eco-friendly & bio-degradability possibilities. We are in the process of increasing production capacity substantially over the next 2 years as we envisage a huge demand soon for the high quality eco-friendly products that we specialize in ...

Brief History of the company :

V&M is a family run leather goods manufacturing firm that has been exporting quality goods to US, UK, the EU, Japan and other countries. It was started in 1995 in an ancient Delhi Village which was soon absorbed by the city so a series of moves brought us to the industrial township of Manesar, 35 km from Delhi Airport. Started by a retired Army officer with a chance order of leather bags, V&M is now a well-established firm. We manufacture a wide range of leather goods and specialize in office items, leather journals and bags. We design our own products; work with designers from our buyers and with upcoming designers. We also do contract manufacturing. However true to our roots, we continue to employ rural craftsman, teach them how to combine their craft with modern machines & produce a range that is well liked. For this we have a base of varied machines selected judiciously from Italy, Japan, America and China. This approach has enabled us to train from among the multitude of unemployed and poorly educated youth of our country thus helping alleviate in the short run what is a major social problem in India. We supply to Barnes & Noble, Anthropologie, Urban Outfitters, Crate & Barrel, Tesco, Habitat, The Conran Shop and others and also work with many upcoming designers. All but highly specialized work is done in house supported by strong R&D that enables the development of varied and innovative products. We are ethically compliant to standards of sedex, UK among others.
