MESSAGE

I am delighted to learn that the Council for Leather Exports (CLE) is organising the export awards for the year 2021-22 on 3rd January 2023 in New Delhi to felicitate the best export performers in the footwear and leather industry.

The footwear and leather industry in the country provides employment to a large number of people with a high concentration of women workforce and is a major foreign exchange earner. Being a labour intensive industry, the sector has played a huge role in socio-economic upliftment of economically weaker sections of the society.

Under the dynamic leadership of Prime Minister Narendra Modi ji, the sector has achieved the reputation of being a supplier of high quality products in the global market. It has established itself as a reliable sourcing partner of reputed global brands by effectively combining its traditional knowledge with modern production technologies. Given the highest ever merchandise export value in 2021-22 and India's immense capabilities, I am sure that the footwear and leather sector will continue to play a vital role in our export growth in the coming years.

With the world looking at India as a manufacturing powerhouse, I am sure that the exporters in the footwear and leather sector will utilise the emerging business opportunities by scaling-up their production and diversifying their product range in tune with the requirements of the market. I congratulate all the award winners for their determined efforts in promoting our overall exports and wish CLE all the success in its future endeavours.

MESSAGE

CHAIRMAN

Dear Members,

Thanks to the strenuous efforts of our industry stakeholders and the continuous support of the Government, the Indian footwear and leather sector has made significant strides and is on a firm growth trajectory now.

Considering the immense potential for increasing exports, our sector aims to reach an export turnover of USD 13.7 billion by 2030, from the present USD 5 billion. In order to achieve this envisaged target, we need to not only enhance our production capabilities manifold, but also have to undertake aggressive and sustained marketing campaign, besides attracting investments, joint ventures and technology transfers so as to create products in tune with the changing market requirements. We also need to strengthen our supply chain to meet the unexpected challenges posed by situations like the Pandemic.

It is the effort of each and every exporter that has made our industry strong and vibrant. The Council for Leather Exports (CLE) is proud to honour the best performers on the export front, achievers in brand promotion and also women entrepreneurs by presenting them awards every year. There are many entrepreneurs in our sector who have won the CLE awards repeatedly and there are many others who win the award for the first time. This trend is continuing in the CLE awards for 2021-22 also. I congratulate both the established performers and also the new achievers for their award winning performance and extend my best wishes to them for their future successes.

CLE will continue to play its active role in supporting our exporters to achieve our envisaged export targets.

VICE - CHAIRMAN

Dear Members,

Since the adverse impact caused by the COVID 19 Pandemic on our exports during 2019-20 , the Indian leather and footwear sector has shown great resilience and has bounced back vigorously with significant growth in exports. Our exports had registered substantial growth during 2021-22 and this growth momentum is continuing this year also.

Of course, there are short term challenges posed by the recessionary trends prevailing now in the global market but in the long term, our sector has immense growth prospects. Hence, we should aim at not only consolidating and further expanding our presence in our major markets of Europe and USA but also make significant penetrations in the potential markets including Middle – East, CIS, Africa, Latin America, Asia and Oceania regions.

In order to catch-up with the ever-changing trends in global market, we need to diversify and enlarge our product range and be a trend setter on the design development front, with the support of our institutions.

The efforts of individual exporters in achieving the envisaged export growth levels is of paramount importance and it is our duty to honour such exporters who have achieved milestones. Considering this, CLE is presenting the export awards every year and will be presenting the awards for the year 2021-22 too. I congratulate all the CLE award winners for the year 2021-22 and wish them all success.

I take this opportunity to thank the “Export Award Sub – Committee” members comprising Smt. Rajalakshmi Devaraj, Zonal Addl. DGFT, Chennai ;Dr.K.J.Sreeram, Director, Central Leather Research Institute and Shri R. Selvam, Executive Director, CLE for sparing their valuable time and selecting the award winners.

EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR

Dear Members,

The Indian footwear and Leather sector has created a niche for itself in the global market through effective utilization of its inherent strengths of huge raw material base and labour availability and through implementation of modern production technologies.

With the active support of the Government, the sector has made huge investments in the modernization and technological up-gradation of production units and in skill development of workforce, which has resulted in creation of innovative products, in line with the varying requirements of the buyers.

The changing global market dynamics and the preference of India as a reliable sourcing partner, has created huge opportunities for our sector to significantly increase our exports. The time is ripe now for diversification and scaling-up our production to meet the huge volume requirements. I am sure that our sector is on course to achieve more milestones in the coming years.

The achievements of the Indian footwear and Leather sector can be attributed to the concerted and strenuous efforts of our exporters. The Council for Leather Exports is proud to be part of this success journey of the achievers by presenting them export awards every year.
